FLIGHT DAY: Depart for Your Vacation

Your vacation is about to begin! Spend your first night aloft and arrive ready for an unforgettable trip.

ARRIVAL DAY: Arrive in Dublin / Pre-Tour Hotel Night: Dublin

A VBT representative will greet you at Dublin Airport to start your adventure off right. A complimentary car service will whisk you to your centrally located hotel. From here, you are perfectly positioned to explore this charming city at your leisure.

DAY 1: Your VBT Vacation Begins / Travel to Ennis / Travel to Lisdoonvarna via the Cliffs of Moher / Warm-Up Ride

After an included breakfast, meet a hotel representative in the lobby at 8:15 a.m. for your journey on a private motorcoach from Dublin to Ennis. Due to the size of the coach and limited parking at the hotel, you will walk approximately 2–3 minutes with your luggage to the designated pickup point. If you anticipate any difficulty with this short walk, please inform the hotel staff in advance. A hotel representative will accompany you and your fellow travelers to the coach.

The drive to Ennis takes approximately three hours. En route, there will be a scheduled stop just over halfway through the journey, where you will have access to restrooms and the opportunity to purchase a light lunch. Breakfast and dinner are the included meals today.

At 1:00 p.m., meet your VBT trip leaders in the lobby of the Old Ground Hotel in Ennis. They will be wearing VBT staff garments and holding a VBT sign. Additional VBT Land Package guests will also arrive at this time. You'll have a chance to stretch your legs and change into your cycling clothes before regrouping with your leaders.

Once the group is assembled, travel by private motorcoach from Ennis to Lisdoonvarna, stopping en route at the famous Cliffs of Moher. You'll have approximately one hour to walk around and explore this iconic site, where the cliffs rise up to 600 feet (183 meters) above the crashing Atlantic—offering some of the most breathtaking views in western Ireland.

Continue on to Sheedy's Country House & Restaurant in Lisdoonvarna (total travel time from Ennis is approximately 1.5 hours). This historic property is one of Ireland's most beloved small hotels, with Chef/Owner John Sheedy—now in the seventh generation—regarded as one of the country's finest chefs. After settling in, attend a group safety and bike-fitting session followed by a warm-up ride. Later, gather for a welcome reception and dinner to get to know your fellow travelers.

DAY 2: The Burren / County Clare

Today, begin cycling west along the rocky coastline toward the ocean, enjoying sweeping views of Galway Bay. This region, known as The Burren—meaning “rocky coast” in Gaelic—is one of the few places on Earth where arctic, Mediterranean, and alpine plants coexist. As you ride, you'll see dramatic limestone pavement, caves, underground streams, dolmens, stone forts, wedge and gallery graves, early Christian crosses, historic churches, wooded valleys, and wildflowers nestled in the crevices of the stone. You may also spot prehistoric monuments scattered across this otherworldly landscape, whose vast limestone plateau has often been compared to the surface of the moon. The route takes you around Black Head, a well-known angling spot offering panoramic views of Galway Bay, framed by the distant hills and mountains of Connemara.

During the day, you'll meet local expert Shane Connelly for a walk and talk about The Burren's archaeology, agriculture, and history—shared in his delightful Irish brogue.

After lunch on your own in the quaint harbor village of Ballyvaughan, continue riding and soaking in the rugged beauty of the region. This afternoon also offers the chance to visit the Poul nabrone Megalithic Tomb, a Neolithic monument that predates the Pyramids.

After dinner at the hotel, consider strolling into town to enjoy live music in Lisdoonvarna, a lively hub of traditional Irish folk music.

DAY 3: Kilfenora and Carran / Galway

Cycle or take the van to Kilfenora, the "City of Seven Crosses," known as the site of a sixth-century monastery. Stop to visit the Burren Centre, St. Fachtnan's Cathedral, and view the impressive 12th-century Celtic crosses at this once-important spiritual center of western Ireland.

Continue over rolling hills and through lush countryside, passing old stone walls on your way to Noughaval, where you may choose to visit medieval churches, Neolithic tombs, and other sacred sites. From there, ride on to Carran, home to the isolated Corcomroe Abbey. Now in ruins, this cross-shaped abbey was once occupied by Cistercian monks and remained active for about 400 years.

From Carran, board a private motorcoach to Galway, a historic harbor town turned vibrant city. Your trip leaders will share recommendations for favorite eateries, pubs, and shops. Lunch and dinner are on your own today. Spend your free time exploring Galway's lively Eyre Square, where you can shop for woolens, books, and other treasures, or visit historic landmarks such as Lynch's Castle, the Roman Catholic Cathedral, and other notable churches.

DAY 4: The Aran Islands

Enjoy a full, traditional Irish breakfast before catching the shuttle and ferry to Inishmore, the largest of the three Aran Islands. The ferry crossing takes approximately 40 minutes. Bikes for today's ride are provided by a local rental shop; while they are not VBT bikes, they are well-suited for your island exploration. After a short introductory ride, many guests choose to treat this as a mostly non-cycling day, opting instead to walk or hike around the island. Inhabited for centuries, the remote Aran Islands are home to some of the finest prehistoric monuments in Europe. If you explore the eastern end of the island near Kiltonan Harbor, consider a visit to Ionad Árann, the island's Heritage and Interpretive Center.

Lunch is on your own today. In the afternoon, enjoy a short walk to the impressive Dún Aonghasa (Dun Aenghus), one of the most remarkable Druidic sites in Ireland. Spectacularly perched on the edge of a high cliff, this sacred stone fort—over 2,000 years old—stands as one of the most striking prehistoric ruins in Europe. Though clearly defensible, its dramatic location suggests a ceremonial or religious purpose, possibly linked to seasonal rites and bonfires visible from the mainland. While here, take time to explore additional Celtic monuments, mystic stones, and ancient holy wells scattered throughout the island.

Your trip leaders will also share information about an optional ride available today.

Tonight, you'll stay in one of the island's charming guesthouses, and dinner is included.

Please note: Plan to use your daypack for all overnight needs. Your main luggage will not travel with you to the islands; instead, it will be sent ahead and will be waiting in your room upon arrival in Connemara.

In this rugged and enchanting region—framed by the Twelve Bens mountain range and the Roundstone Bog—you'll encounter glittering beaches, shimmering lakes and rivers, and Ireland's iconic peat bogs. This romantic landscape has long inspired painters and writers, and it remains a stronghold of traditional Irish culture, language, music, and folklore.

Later, arrive at your welcoming hotel on the shores of Lough Inagh. Take time to relax and freshen up before gathering with your small group for dinner, thoughtfully prepared by the hotel chef.

This serenely magical landscape inspired the works of Yeats, Gogarty, and Oscar Wilde, and it remains remarkably unchanged today. Perhaps you'll pause to wiggle your toes in the sand and enjoy an included lunch before returning to the hotel.
