FLIGHT DAY: Depart for Your Vacation

Your vacation is about to begin! Spend your first night aloft and arrive ready for an unforgettable trip.

ARRIVAL DAY: Arrive in Palma / Pre-Tour Hotel Night: Palma

A VBT representative will greet you at the airport to start your adventure off right. A complimentary car service will whisk you to your centrally located hotel. From here, you are perfectly positioned to explore this vibrant city at your leisure.

DAY 1: Your VBT Vacation Begins / Warm-Up Ride: Binissalém Vineyards / Paella Cooking Demo & Wine Tasting

After a delicious, locally sourced breakfast, meet your VBT representative and fellow travelers at 8:30 a.m. in the lobby of Hotel Convent De La Missió in Palma. Please arrive dressed for cycling and bring your own pedals or saddle, if you use them.

From Palma, travel into the heart of a scenic plateau dotted with vineyards, olive groves, and orchards—the renowned Binissalém wine region in the southern foothills of the Tramuntanas. Wine has been produced here since Roman times and even continued under Moorish rule, despite religious restrictions.

Your warm-up loop ride follows flat, local roads past rolling orchards and open fields, with sweeping views of the surrounding mountains. The ride ends at a charming finca, where a hearty lunch and local wines cap off the ride.

For Spaniards, paella is more than a dish—it's a celebration. In this spirit, you'll join your host in preparing this iconic meal in a stunning setting. Though paella hails from mainland Valencia, it was embraced in Mallorca under Moorish influence. Later, rice cultivation returned to the island in the early 20th century, particularly in the salt-rich wetlands of S'Albufereta—where you'll cycle later in the week.

After lunch, continue to Hotel Es Port, a fortified 17th-century mansion set on 10 acres (4 hectares) of lush gardens, native plants, and century-old trees. Unwind with spa treatments, a swim in the indoor or outdoor pool, or a stroll to the nearby waterfront for beach time and shopping.

This evening, enjoy a special welcome dinner of regional specialties prepared by the hotel chef. Weather permitting, dine al fresco on the poolside terrace.

Begin your warm-up ride on a flat, extended route, then cycle along quiet, seldom-traveled roads through rolling orchards and farmland. Pass vineyards with stunning views of the Serra mountain range and local villages renowned for their wine production. For those seeking additional mileage, a longer ride option is available today. The ride concludes at a local finca, where you'll enjoy an included lunch and wine tasting before returning to your hotel by shuttle.

DAY 2: Fornalutx and Sóller / Mediterranean Home-Hosted Lunch

After a delicious outdoor breakfast featuring products from local farms and markets, begin your cycling day in Port de Sóller, a picturesque town nestled between the Tramuntana mountain range and the Mediterranean Sea. Today's ride leads you along the beachfront of Fornalutx and into the heart of Sóller—one of Mallorca's true gems. This geographically isolated town boasts a stunning collection of Art Nouveau and neo-Gothic architecture, as well as an Old Town linked by charming electric tramcars.

You'll loop through the Fornalutx valley, surrounded by an idyllic landscape of mountain villages, orchards, orange groves, olive trees, and vineyards. This is the Mallorca of old—a place where locals come to connect with nature and where time seems to stand still in its tiny, timeless villages.

Stop in Sóller to browse an array of local shops featuring handmade products and mingle with Majorcans before lunch at a very special venue: Can Det, one of the oldest fincas (estates) on the island. Apart from the addition of electricity, workers here have used the same traditional techniques for over 500 years. The 17th-generation owner will give you a personal tour, culminating in a lunch of local delicacies, including freshly pressed olive oil and orange juice from trees dating back to the 16th century. You'll also see the oldest and only traditional olive oil press still in use on the island.

Later, cycle a mostly flat route back to your hotel or opt for a more challenging ride through a small mountain pass. In the afternoon, you might take a dip in the outdoor pool, stroll to the nearby beach, or simply pause to watch the sun set over the shimmering Balearic Sea.

The evening is yours to explore, relax, and discover a dinner spot that calls to you.

DAY 5: Rustic Majorcan Countryside / Sencelles Region / Pla i Llevant / Ses Salines

Bid farewell to Pollença this morning and cycle through the rustic Majorcan countryside, skirting olive groves, lush vineyards, and fertile farmlands. Your first destination is Sencelles, a municipality in the heart of the island that offers a glimpse into Mallorca's past. Numerous well-preserved archaeological sites from the Talaiotic period of the Bronze Age, along with ancient architecture, reveal a region inhabited for thousands of years.

Continue riding off the tourist trail to Algaida, one of the island's best places to soak up authentic Majorcan culture, known for its quality cuisine and wine. The name Algaida comes from the Arabic al-gaida, meaning "the base." The area is rich in Talaiotic stone remains (1400–123 BCE), and the historic windmills scattered around the town define the landscape.

Pause in Algaida to sample local specialties and wines at one of the oldest wineries on the island, founded in 1229 during the reign of King James. Owned by the Morauques family since the 15th century, the estate has been lovingly maintained using organic farming methods.

Leaving the Tramuntana Mountains behind, cycle south across the Pla i Llevant region, passing through the foothills of the Ronda range. As its name suggests—"plain and east coast"—this area offers a flat and peaceful ride through the countryside.

Continue on to Ses Salines, where your boutique hotel awaits. Perhaps unwind in the private garden or outdoor pool before heading out to explore the village and find a dinner spot that calls to you.

In the afternoon, continue along mostly flat byways or opt for a shuttle back to the hotel.

DAY 6: Salines d'Es Trenc / Cala Figuera

Start your day with an al fresco breakfast in the garden, then return to the saddle for your final day of exploring the diverse landscapes of Mallorca. Begin with a ride to what many call the "salt of the earth" side of the island—Salinas d'Es Trenc. Salt has been harvested from these shores since ancient times. Today, you'll visit the salt pans and the marble-white, dune-like mounds where a modern operation continues to process this mineral treasure.

Continue along flat, quiet roads into the protected national park, a rare salt-marsh ecosystem that is home to around 200 bird species, including flamingoes and ospreys. Approximately 178 plant species also thrive here, with two dozen classified as endemic, rare, or vulnerable—each uniquely adapted to the earth's high mineral content.

Your route then winds through Mondragó Natural Park, where you cycle past fragrant almond and carob trees, and may spot a lone kestrel gliding above a stand of white pines. By midday, you'll arrive in the peaceful fishing village of Cala Figuera, where traditional seaside culture remains beautifully preserved. In the colorful bay, white fishing boats bob cheerfully in turquoise waters, nestled beneath a tidy terrace of whitewashed cottages. For lunch on your own, you'll find plenty of places to unwind—perhaps under the shade of a fig tree, enjoying the view of the azure bay and the scent of blooming hibiscus.

In the afternoon, return to your hotel for some well-deserved relaxation. This evening, gather once more for a cooking class with locals, followed by a festive farewell dinner featuring regional specialties. Raise a glass to celebrate your spectacular week in Mallorca!
