DAY 2: Cable car ride to summit of Table Mountain / Cycle along Table Mountain / Kirstenbosch Botanical Gardens / Langa township / Welcome dinner

After breakfast, shuttle to the Table Mountain Cableway, where you'll visit the top of Table Mountain—Cape Town's iconic, flat-topped mountain—and admire magnificent views of the Cape Peninsula. Once back down the cableway, continue to Tafelberg Road, perched high above the city. After a safety briefing, orientation, and bike-fitting session with your trip leaders, you'll embark on a warm-up ride along the base of Table Mountain. The ride offers some rolling terrain. As you pedal, you'll be treated to spectacular views of Table Bay and the Cape Town "City Bowl."

This afternoon, you'll enjoy a closer look at South Africa's fascinating flora during a short-included visit to the world-famous Kirstenbosch Botanical Gardens. Nestled in the foothills of Table Mountain, the garden showcases the staggering diversity of South Africa's indigenous plants, many of which can be found nowhere else on Earth. Marvel at the endless varieties of fynbos on display, a distinct floral kingdom of hardy flowering shrubs found almost exclusively in the Western Cape, including the pointy-pedaled King Protea, South Africa's national flower. Enjoy a picnic lunch on the grounds.

You'll also visit the townships this afternoon for a walking tour in Langa, one of Cape Town's oldest townships. Here you will learn, from a local guide, about some of the challenges that many South Africans face in post-apartheid South Africa, as well as about the Xhosa culture. This fascinating window into life in the townships is quite eye-opening. As you'll see, the vibrant streets are full of life and color.
