Lift anchor early this morning and enjoy your first breakfast on board during a scenic coastal cruise to Vis, the farthest island from Croatia's shore inhabited by locals. The fishing heritage is rich here as Vis has long been isolated from other sources of livelihood. Today, an active viniculture also thrives on this relaxed, low-key island. You arrive late this morning and pedal along on a beautiful seaside route to Milna, where you might dive into the Adriatic for a swim at one of the many long, sandy beaches for which Vis is celebrated. Later, ride to the island's famed restaurant, Rokis, a casual eatery set in a traditional stone house typical of the Dalmatian Islands.

Later, cycle to the old fishing village of Komiža, set between dramatic green hills and the shimmering ocean. You visit the imposing St. George Fortress and the fishing museum for a glimpse of the region's rich past and seafaring ways. After, ride back to your ship over scenic hills, taking in breathtaking Adriatic vistas. If you prefer, get a lift from the shuttle and explore the town of Vis, perhaps visiting the Notre Dame Church or strolling to admire Renaissance summer houses built by the nobility. This evening, enjoy dinner on board. You moor overnight in Vis.

DAY 3: Cycle Korcula Island / Visit olive farm / Moreška performance

A three-hour sailing this morning delivers you to Vela Luka (meaning "big harbor") on the splendid island of Korcula. Not only is this one of the most beautiful Dalmatian islands; it is also beloved for the golden-hued Grk wine produced at its vineyards. Your morning ride leads you into a stunning landscape of karst hills to one side and glittering Adriatic waters to the other. Some hill climbing brings you to spectacular lookout points. Your destination is a working olive farm, lush with gnarly olive trees that have grown here in the Adriatic sun for generations. Pause to visit with the owners and enjoy a tour of its ethnographic collection of olive presses, learning about the island's long tradition of harvesting. Later, you stop for a traditional Croatian lunch at the family-owned Konopica restaurant. Sample the homemade Uštipci bread, sip a local Pošip wine and perhaps enjoy a local octopus peka, a traditional dish slow-cooked under a cast-iron dome-shaped baking lid. (Have your trip leader call the day before as it takes many hours to prepare.)

After lunch, continue cycling to Grad Korcula, the island's cultural center and alleged birthplace of Marco Polo. This fascinating town was laid out in a herringbone configuration on a scenic promontory. The resulting grid allows for easy air flow and protects its citizens from strong mistral winds in the warm summers. All its narrow streets are stepped, except the Street of Thoughts, so called because there's no need to watch your footing as you stroll.

Dinner is on your own this evening. You're sure to find the ideal spot in Grad Korcula, affectionately called "mini Dubrovnik" for its authentic medieval atmosphere. Later, you may attend a Moreška performance, an exciting sword dance depicting a battle between Croats and Moors. Your ship docks in Grad Korcula tonight.

Sail this morning to the mainland and the scenic Pelješac Peninsula. This finger of land pointing into the Adriatic has been compared to Tuscany for its wine production. Upon arrival, you join a shuttle to Donja Banda to begin a magnificent morning of cycling amid dramatic landscapes. You first stop in the village of Kuna at a donkey farm, the Antunovic Family Farm. Meet the proprietors during your visit and learn about their breeding program and their surrounding vineyards – and of course, meet the long-eared residents!

Continue to the Matuško winery in the tiny village of Potomje. Tour this scenic spot overlooking the sea and perhaps sample some of its smooth olive oil and its renowned Dingac wine, made from Plavac mali grapes. After, you return to the ship and set out for Mljet Island, enjoying lunch on board.

Your focus this afternoon is the spectacular Mljet National Park, comprising all of the island's northwestern region. Surrounded by turquoise waters and cloaked in forest and shrub, it is deserving of a closer look. You leave the bicycles on board and have the afternoon at leisure to swim, kayak or hike along its pristine shores. This evening, enjoy a wine- and olive-tasting on board, followed by dinner. You

DAY 5: Ride the Viganj coast / Picnic and swim at Podobuce / Sail to Hvar

Depart Mljet this morning and sail toward the end of the Pelješac Peninsula to Viganj, perhaps spotting windsurfers catching the mistral winds. Back on the mainland, you disembark for a scenic out-and-back ride along the breathtaking coastline. For lunch, you stop in Podobuce, a pretty fishing village, for a picnic prepared by your trip leaders. There'll be time for a swim here, too, before you return to the ship.

You'll have the chance to take it all in when you cycle among its pristine vistas tomorrow. For now, you moor in one of the scenic bays outside Hvar Town. ## DAY 6: Explore Hvar Town / Cycle to Stari Grad / Home-hosted dinner in Jelsa

Disembark after breakfast for a short walk in Hvar Town, a medieval Croatian settlement with a strong Venetian influence dating back to the 16th century. Take in the expanse of Saint Stephen's Square, the largest Adriatic square after Saint Mark's in Venice. And see the Arsenal, built in 1612 as Europe's oldest and perhaps smallest municipal theater.

After, ride past Hvar's stunning panoramas of fertile fields filled with flowers and herbs and dramatic, sparsely inhabited landscape crisscrossed by stone walls. You can admire views across the sea to neighboring islands and the mainland. The road into Stari Grad, a charming Dalmatian town situated at the end of a narrow bay, is a glorious four-mile (6.5 km) downhill coast. Originally founded in the fourth century BC, Stari Grad (literally "old town") features a main square which offers a number of options for lunch on your own. Get acquainted with this gem of a town during an orientation walk. There'll be free time to explore on your own.

Continue biking a pleasant road into Jelsa, passing vineyards and olive groves. A local Jelsa family welcomes you into their village, and into their home. You are their guests this evening for a home-prepared dinner and wine. You'll find there's no better way to connect with the people of the Dalmatian islands than over a shared meal. Your ship meets you in Jelsa at day's end and will remain moored here tonight.

DAY 7: Cycle Brac Island / Visit stonecutter's school / Sail to Trogir / Captain's Farewell dinner

This morning, cruise into the beautiful bay of Pucišća. This tiny enclave on the island of Brac is considered one of the prettiest villages in Europe. Disembark here and visit one of the world's few remaining stonecutting schools. The stone that is carved here, quarried from nearby Skrip, has been used to build some of the world's most famous buildings, including Diocletian's Palace in Split and the White House in Washington, D.C. This is a unique opportunity to see students' work and learn about a near-forgotten craft.

After an enlightening visit, cycle the northern coast of the island to the 14th-century village of Postira, nestled between the ocean and hillsides. On the way, you pass centuries-old olive and pine groves. Continue to Supetar, the island's main port, where you meet your ship for lunch on board. After lunch, you may extend your riding day with a spin to Milna, a charming village on a bay settled by shepherds in the 16th century. Keep your ears open for the local Chakavian dialect, the only place on the island where the ancient Slavic language is spoken.

Rejoin your ship here, then sail back to Trogir, where your trip began. This evening, join the captain for a special farewell dinner, recounting your favorite moments from your cycling adventure among the magnificent Dalmatian Islands.
